Mohit Aneja

Founder of AixonAI

17+ Years Senior Developer Turned Career Coach

After 17+ years as a Senior Developer, Team Lead and building companies that hired 100+ people, I faced my own career crisis. What followed was a 3-year journey through unemployment that taught me everything about what's broken in the job search process, and how to fix it.

I've been where you are. I know the frustration of sending resumes into black holes, the anxiety of interviews, and the crushing weight of rejection. But I also discovered the system that changed everything.

Today, I help professionals like you break through career barriers using the same strategies that got me hired after being overlooked for 3 years. After decades of completing projects for clients, I've found that the joy of contributing to someone's career success far exceeds any technical achievement. There's nothing quite like the moment when someone lands their dream role after months of struggle.
